

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A game played for entertaining or educational purposes in which a flexible wire is shaped and folded into various shapes while others try to guess the shape represented by the flexible wire. A plurality of cards with objects disposed on their surface may be provided in which the person folding and shaping the flexible wire must fold and shape the flexible wire to represent the object disposed a chosen card. Points may be awarded for the team that guesses the correct object represented by the flexible wire.